

Children who read just 15 minutes every day over the summer keep the skills they've already learned and don't lose ground!